THE VOLUNTEER

The Volunteer magazine is the official journal of the New South Wales State Emergency Service Volunteers Association (NSWSESVA) which is the representative body for the volunteers of the New South Wales State Emergency Service. It is used by NSWSESVA to co-ordinate activities and air its viewpoints to members and volunteers statewide.

The Volunteer contains a variety of information that is pertinent to emergency service volunteers including rescue and lifesaving techniques, bushfire protection, water safety and road accident rescue.

It is strategically produced for your area to support your local members and without funding from businesses like yours, it would be impossible to produce this quality publication. All advertising is greatly appreciated and is essential for the ongoing support of this publication and to continue the communication between NSWSESVA members.
